"A small city within the city": About the Schultheiss Quartier.

Opened in August 2018, the multifunctional Schultheiss Quartier center on the former site of the Schultheiss brewery in Berlin's Moabit district of Berlin-Mitte comprises approximately 20,000 square meters of retail space, 25,000 square meters of office space, 8,500 square meters of hotel space, a versatile food court, as well as a 2,400-square-meter fitness center and 400 car parking spaces.

"In the heart of Berlin-Mitte, the Schultheiss Quartier combines all facets of urban life such as working, shopping, accommodation and entertainment in a unique ambience." explains Harald Gerome Huth, owner and managing director of HGHI Holding GmbH. The architect in charge, Max Dudler, also describes the Schultheiss Quartier as "a small city within the city". Schultheiss Quartier is only two kilometers from Berlin's main train station and is optimally connected to public transportation by numerous bus and subway lines (subway line U9: Turmstraße station / bus lines: M27, TXL, 101, 123, 187).
