With a short speech of borough mayor Frank Balzer and project developer Dr. Harald Gerome Huth the popular market hall in Berlin-Tegel was formally reopened on Thursday, March 9th 2017. More than 100 guests enjoyed the celebration with live-music, a photo exhibition and delicacies provided by the market hall tenants. The market hall, looking back on a tradition of 100 years, is an inherent part of Tegel's community and a meeting place beyond Tegel's borders.

The project developer and investor HGHI Holding GmbH is responsible for the refurbishment of the Tegel Center. To HGHI, it was very important that the market hall did not close during the modernization measures, but instead to find a temporary solution for the market hall tenants as well as the citizens.

The market hall in Gorkistraße with a mixture of tradition and modernity, invites its guests to dwell and enjoy. Quality and freshness- these two features characterize the diverse offer of the market hall tenants. Here, the focus is especially on the close and personal contact between merchants and customers.
